2. You tell me about the man you met last year
And the cities change I shift the gears
The sun melts down our window shield
And we soak it in, nothing else is real
 And I've been changing my attitude like a model changes clothes
 Just rearranging the pieces but in the end she looks exactly the same
 But one thing would get me through
 Yes to spend a little time with a good good friend like you

3. Now we're telling dirty jokes through El Paso
And it's only another day or two or three left to go
Oooh, back to our jobs back to the grind
But it's so much sweeter now we shared this time
 I've been working on my inner self like a factory worker on the line
 Punching in and punching out but the end the work it never seems to be mine
 One thing would surely get me through
 Mmm to spend a little time with a good good friend like you
 Oh to spend a little time with a good good friend like you
