jaw so tight

You come home late I wish you'd hold me
You walk on by and brush me away
I call out to you "Hey what's your problem"
You say "I'm sorry I've had a bad day"

It's those little failings that makes me want to stay with you
It's those little failings that makes me think that I can fail sometimes too
And I do, those little failings

You want to be so god damned perfect
You want to be the brightest star
You want to be my super hero
Guess what I love you as you are

It's those little failings that makes me want to stay with you
It's those little failings that makes me think that I can fail sometimes too
And I do, those little failings
